

Mortgages

Mortgages are one of the largest single transactions in most people's lives. Buying a property can be a stressful and time consuming experience, although nowadays the financing of a mortgage is a case of finding and selecting the most suitable mortgage, rather than simply accepting a lender's offer.

Banks, building societies, and smaller niche lenders compete for your business, all offering a variety of interest rate deals, associated fees and other enhancements to attract borrowers and there is a confusing array of options and methods for repaying a mortgage, capital and repayment and interest only.

Knowing the best route can be confusing but we can help at every stage from saving for or investing a deposit, buying your first home, remortgaging or buying an investment property.

Banks, building societies, and smaller niche lenders compete for your business, all offering a variety of interest rate deals, associated fees and other enhancements to attract borrowers and there is a confusing array of options and methods for repaying a mortgage, capital and repayment and interest only.

Knowing the best route can be confusing but we can help at every stage from saving for or investing a deposit, buying your first home, remortgaging or buying an investment property.